ENJO is in the business of changing lives. More than just fibres, ENJO protects and saves what is most important to families and their future.

We are a global company with a very local impact – we have a mission to change the lives of others, home by home, and we have the opportunity to serve over 28.5 million homes across the UK.

How can we do that? By sharing the gift of good living. There's no better time than now. A revolution is happening – we're already making a change for health, time, money and the environment.

All we need is you.

Today, we want to share with you 10 ways in which our ENJOpreneurs are making a difference in their lives & in the world.

1. Take your family on vacation.

How would it feel to have enough disposable income to take your family on vacation? Whether your a backcountry camping or a tropical resort kind of family, being an ENJOpreneur means you can fund priceless experiences for you and your loved ones.

2. Generate some extra cash to take over the family car payment.

And let's not stop with family vacations. What if you had enough income to take over your family's car payment? To renovate that bathroom you've grown tired of? Or, gasp, take you and your partner for massages every month? Yeah, we think that sounds pretty great too.

3. Travel for FREE.

After only 6 consecutive months, you can qualify for a trip to the ENJO International Tour. You'll have an opportunity to visit the heart of ENJO, see how ENJO products are made, meet ENJO Founder Johannes Engl as well as the International Team, and connect with ENJOpreneurs from around the world! (And, of course, experience the amazing food, culture and scenery of Austria).

4. Find your people.

It's easy to form lifelong connections with a network of like-minded people around you. When you become an ENJOpreneur, you're joining a global community of people who care about keeping life chemical free, protecting the environment, and helping others make meaningful change.
